CURLING.

Twenty-third Annual Competition for the Gordon Medal.

With the ice in fine condition for the rare old cottish sport of curling, there was a great gathering of the clans at the Hoboken rink yesterday to witness the twenty-third annual competition for the Gordon medal. In honor of the occasion the officials and many of the competitors and spectators were decked out in yellow and dark green ribbons, the colors of the Gordon tartan.

The historic medal is competed for alternately in the East and the West, and last year was won by the St. Paul team, with Griggs as skip. When the Gordon prize is the attraction in the West the Mitchell medal takes its place here. The winner of the Mitchell last

There was a rather unexpected ending to the contest between Kid McPartland and Matty Matthews, the two local lightweights, at the Hercules A. C., Brooklyn, last night. The battle was to have been for twenty-five rounds. but McPartland was knocked out after the men had been fighting one minute and thirty. three seconds. McPartland looked to be in great form and was regarded as an almost sure winner. The punch which laid the Kid low was so quickly and accurately dealt that few of the sports realized how it was done.

The briefness of the struggle did not please the large crowd present and the management put on an extra bout between two local featherweights, Tony Moran ofl New York and Pete Burke of Brooklyn, for ten rounds at catchweights. The result was a draw.

In the preliminary bout of twelve rounds at eatchweights between Dick Moore of St. Paul and Jack Collier of Far Rockaway the decision was also a draw. winner. The punch which laid the Kid low

The trick was done by Terry McGovern in 2 minutes and 5 seconds, and 1,000 disappointed spectators filed out of the Eureka A. C. Mediovern was fully ten pounds heavier than Ward. The champion was seconded by Sam Harris, Dan Daugherty, Charley Mayhood and Gabe Genero, while Joe Elliot, Dan Ward, and Kid Lackey looked after Ward. Unto the knock-out blow Ward was doing fairly well and the spectators had great hopes of his winning out, but the end came quick and unexpected. At the opening of the round both men were cautious, McGovern led first and landed a left-hand jab in the stomach and Ward returned with a left-hand swing on the jaw. McGovern then got home both right and left on body and in turn received a right hand swing on the jaw, Suddenly Terry's right shot out and caught Ward on the chin Jack staggered and McGovern then put his left on Ward's jaw and the latter went down and out. of Jimmy Anthony, Jimmy Barry and Casper

Jim Jeffries Leaves for Hot Springs. That Jim Jeffries does not intend to take any chances in preparing for his coming match with Jim Corbett is evident, for yesterday he left for Hot Springs, Ark., where he intends to remain for at least three weeks. He was accompanied by his brother Jack. Next week the champion will be joined by Billy Deianey, who will have sole charge of the boilermaker's training. While at the Springs Jeffries will go through a course of work which will put hus on edge for his final preparation at Allenhorst, N. J. The champion may secure the services of a good second-class heavyweight to work with him. Jim McCormick of Texas, who was brought East by Prof. Jimmy Kelly, has been suggested. McCormick is six feet high and is a pupil of Jim Hall. He is strong, rugged and clever. Ernst Roeber will also be one of the champion's assistants.

Jeffries, of course, is confident of the outcome of his battle with Corbett. He says that he will be in fine trim by the time the match is decided. He thinks that the battle will be fought in the East.

LEAGUE MAGNATES ASTIR.

ATTEMPTS MADE TO WIN MIGRAR BACK AT ANY COST. By Assuring to Baltimore That a Ten-Club Circuit Will Be Established—The Meeting of New Organization Promoters at Philadelphia To-day Will Tell the Story.

The National League baseball men are said to be making a desperate attempt to throw insur

mountable obstacles in the path of the new American Association, which will hold a meeting at Philadelphia to day. Frank DeHass Robison,

President of the St. Louis club, who is the recognized emissary of the League Circuit Committee, has held several long secret conferences at Baltimore with H. R. Von der Horst and Edward Han-ion, whose grounds have been captured unexpectedly by the new baseball company. Robi-

on has also conferred, it is reported, with Mc-

Graw, which is evidence that the League is considerably worried. According to one of the League men who is here, the plan of action is to win over McGraw and his friends at any cost,

even if it becomes necessary to abandon the eight-

club circuit, which has already been provided for, and go on with ten clubs. The League real izes that McGraw has made his fight with the belief that Baltimore would be forced into a minor or-

that they had plain sailing and that the Assomeeting at Philadelphia, it will mean that the League will have to double the inducements

Several baseball men of experience who have been watching this row from a point outside the breastworks say that the League itself, or rather three or four schemers, are behind the leasing of the Baltimore property. In fact, they assert that the grounds have been leased directly in the interest of the League as part of a unique plan to compel the Brooklyn-Baltimore syndicate

to consent to an eight-club circuit without receiving a financial recompense. It would be cheaper, these men say, for the League to lease the Baltimore grounds for $3,500 a year and turn them over either to the Association club organ-ized there or to the Eastern League, in case the Association should collapse, than to pay to Abell, Hanlon, Von Ger Horst and Ebbets as much as $75,000 for the franchise and the players that go pelled and the League in that way will avoid paying out a dollar, whereas under other circumstances big money would be required to accomplish this end.

As further proof that the League has decided to win back the Baltimore insurgents J. Earl Wagner, the owner of the Washington Club, came out with a statement that he will not sell out now at any price and that the League will begin the coming season with ten clubs, Cleveland and Louisville having dropped out at last week's conference, Wagner's declaration is undoubtedly intended to discourage the opposition movement.

conference. Wagner's declaration is undoubted, intended to discourage the opposition movement in Washington and also create the impression at Baltimore that the circuit cannot be reduced to eight clubs.

A. at Delmonico's on Feb. 28, Secretary Kerr appended the report of the Nominating Committee appointed recently to name the candidates for office for the coming year. The commitce, Samuel L. Parrish, Chairman; William H. Sands and A. L. Ripley, submitted the following ticket:

President-Washington B. Thomas, Brookline Country Club, to succeed himself. Vice Presidents-John Reid, St. Andrew's Golf Club, to succeed Ransom H. Thomas, Morris County Country Club; H. C. Chatfield Taylor, Onwentala Golf Club, to succeed H. J. Whigiam of the same

Secretary R. B. Kerr, Lakewood Golf Club, to suc-Treasurer-Samuel Y. Heebner, Philadelphia

ountry Club, to succeed George D. Fowle, Philadelphia Cricket Club. Committeemen-Horace Russell, Garden City Golf Club, to succeed John Reid; A. M. Coats, Newport

Golf Club, to succeed himself. With Russell and Coats the Executive Committee is composed of the officers, making seven members in all. Aside from the routine business, the choice of links for the different championships will be determined at the meet-ing and the new St. Andrew's rules adopted, subject to medifications necessary in view of the different conditions met with on Ameri-can links.

He would like to play on an M. C. A course before Vardon goes South. Dunn visited the Laurence Harbor Country Clubon Sunday and played a nractice 36-hole match with Mortimer M. Singer of the home club, who is the champion of the North Jersey Shore League. Dunn's score by strokes was, 94, 93, 189, and Singer's 95, 99, 194. The match was all square in the morning. In the afternoon, after being dormie 7, Dunn won, by 6 upland 5 to play. When the Circuit Committee met at Cleveland last week Brush and his fellow schemers imagined ciation would go up in smoke. But with the move made by McGraw at Baltimore, the situation was changed, and that is why Robison, with instructions from Brush, is now on the ground. McGraw so far has refused to listen to a compromise and says that Baltimore is in the Association to stay. If he attends to-day's

The house of the Harbor Hill Golf Ciub at Brighton Heights. New Brighton, S. I., was destroyed by fire last evening. It was one and a half story frame structure and stood upon a high knoll overlying all parts of the links. It contained a reception room, sleeping apartments and many lockers. In the latter were stored the golf sticks and other property of the members. The fire was discovered by the passengers in a passing trolley car. When the firemen reached the scenethe building was all ablaze. They experienced great difficulty in obtaining water and when at last the necessary pressure was secured the building and its contents were doomed. The fire burned itself out and not a stick was left standing. The loss on the building is placed at $2,000 and on its contents $500. The cause of the fire is believed to have been a defective flue.

Lakewood, Jan. 29.—The play-off of the tie between John Moller, Jr., of Apawamis and W. Burling Cocks of Nassau Country, which involved the prizes in Saturday's handicap at the Golf Club of Lakewood, was won by the latter to-day. The two were tied at 87, having a difference of two strokes in their handicap and they made the play-off at match play, Moller giving one stroke on the long hole. They were all even at the seventeenth and though Moller made a regulation four his opponent went down in three, winning by one up.

Deprived of grounds and players, the League can readily say to Hanlon and his partners; "We are going on with ten clubs. We will schedule Baltimore as usual and it is up to you to live up to the League constitution. If you have lest your grounds and players, that is not our fault. The trouble is all yours." Then when the season opens, so the argument goes, the Baltimore club, unable to live up to the constitution, because of the loss of grounds and players, can be expelled and the League in that way will avoid paying out a dollar, whereas under other circumpasses his money would be required to accom-Kissimmer, Fla., Jan. 29.—Willie Smith of Dayton, Geordie Low and Harry Rawlins, the professional golfers who have been playing in the West Coast tournaments, reached this place from Tampa at noon to-day. They will play an exhibition game here to-morrow for a purse offered by the Kissimmee Golf Club. This afternoon a four-ball foursome was played by Smith and Col. Gillespie, captain of the local club, against Low and Rawlins, in which the latter wos by one hole. The scores were: Rawlins, 38; Low. 34—Total 72. Smith, 39; Gillespie, 34—Total, 73.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Jan. 29.—After a few days at practice the golfers began another two days' miniature tournament on the Florida East Coast links at the Country Club this afternoon. Of the twenty or more entries the following qualified in the first and second eights:

First Eight-Watson. 39; Clayton Diron, 44; Schoff, 48; McKelog, 48; Dizon, 87., 53; MacDowell, 52; Walker, 55; Taylor, 58.

Second Eight-Wesquars, 57; MacGonigle, 61; Champlin, 57; Palmer; 56; McComas, 58; Greaves, 56; Howe, 60; Loomis, 57.

The medal play rounds resulted as follows:

Baltimore that the circuit cannot be reduced to eight clubs.

With McGraw out of the Association the League men believe that his backers will buy out the interests of Abell, Hanlon, Von der Horst and Ebbets at a reasonable figure, thereby doing away with the last vestige of so-called syndicate ball. In other words, McGraw's friends and not the League will buy the Baltimore League franchise. Deprived of Baltimore in this manner the Association might be so weakened, the League people think, that it would give up the struggle after a few spasmodic gasps. Then it would be time to reconsider the ten-club circuit proposition and reduce to the desired number. Trickery has been the motto of the League in recent years so that efforts of this kind to clear up the situation would not be considered out of order. Throw-downs in baseball are characteristic of the men who control the sport and a good tumble for McGraw at a future date, when his hands have been tied, would not surprise those who have watched the magnates in their political moves. The medal play rounds resulted as follows: First Eight—Watson beat Dixon, Sr., S up and 2 to play: Walker beat Taylor, 2 up; Schoff beat McKel-ig, 2 up; Dixon, Jr., beat McDowell, 2 up and 1 to Play: MacGonigle beat McComas, 2 up and t to play: MacGonigle beat Hows, 3 up and 2 to play: Palmer and Loomis stopped even on account of darkness; Champlin beat Greaves, 2 up and 1 to Publicity is absolutely necessary to assure success, for there is no longer any need of secrecy on the part of the Association promoters, although the League considers secrecy the proper caper at all times. The Boston Association men passed through here yesterday and were sanguine of success. President Quin left for Philadelphia last night, after holding another conference with local promoters who are after a franchise. He said that he would be able to make a definite answer to the New Yorkers to-day. Quin further stated that the Association will not employ the "reserve rule" or "option clause" such as exists in League contracts. All players who join the Association will be signed for two years, at the end of which time they will be at liberty to make new engagements with whatever club they may select. Quin avers that he does not wish to remain President of the Association after its formal organization, as he will have plenty to do in running the affairs of his Milwaukee club.

Joe Kelley, captain of the champion Brooklyns, says that the management of the Philadelphia Athletics, which is the name of the Association team in that city, has been offered to him. He further says that he will accept fit its made an object. McGraw, by the way, gives the interesting information that he has not signed a contract with the Baltimore club for three years, consequently if legal proceedings are brought against him for jumping the "option clause" he will pay no attention to them. It was unpacking time at the Madison Square Garden vesterday for the varied exhibits for Pigeon and Pet Stock Association were arrivng in crates from all parts of the country. by express. Wooden crates with tops of muslin to give light and ventilation were used in most cases for the poultry. Some were large enough to hold a dozen birds, each in a separate compartment.

The pigeons arrived in all sorts of crates, only alike that they afforded free ventilation. One pigeon owner, however, had his birds cooped up in a style that made a sensation. The boxes were of Russian leather, suggesting small dress suit cases. When the surrounding strap was unfastened an interior case was lifted up in telescope style, each cross section, as it came into view, showing a different bird. There were six in each of these stylish cases, In contrast, some of the Belgian hares were in old starch boxes, with slats over the top, making a rather tight fit for these leviathans of the rabbit tribes.

The turkeys were in separate hampers, each larger than a steamer trunk. In unpacking the exhibits the handlers showed a knowledge of grips and tackles mavelous to the uninitiated. The turkeys were carried about by the feet, head downward; the geese and ducks held by the neck and an overgrip on the wings; the roosters and hens were held by a back grip that kept the wings and legs motioniess, so that not a feather was ruffied, and the pigeons were held much in the same way, but only one hand was used. To move the hares and rabbits, as every schoolboy knows, the ears formed a natural handle.

By nightfall nearly 3,000 of all sorts of poultry and pigeons had been cooped. The show will open at 9 o'clock this morning and the judging will begin soon afterward.

Baltimore's New Baseball Company Incorporated. BALTIMORE, Jan. 29.-The Baltimore Baseball and Amusement Company was incorporated this afternoon. The capital stock is $20,000, and those who signed the papers are Messrs. John J. Mahon, William H. McGee, Wilbert Robinson, Harry Goldman, Phil Peterson, James P. Shannon and Thomas E. Jenson, James P. Shannon and Thomas E. Jenkins. The specific object of the company is to conduct professional baseball games, athletic exhibitions and other amusements.

From a hint dropped here by President Robison of the St. Louis club it is evident that "continuous" baseball is the weapon with which National League magnates will fight the new association. The suggestion will be made by Robison at the League meeting in March. Von der Horst is still "disheartened." as he terms it, over the injustice done him by those had deemed his friends. The thought that the attempt has been made to "rob him." as he expressed it, of his property at Union Park, which he valued at $30,000, rankles in his breast. While he stoutly asserts that he is in no danger of losing it, as his attorney says the law is explicit for such cases and is all in his favor, yet he says his confidence in human nature and in those whom he particularly trusted has received a severe shock.

Von der Horst's attention was called to an interview in The New York SUN of yesterday, in which H. D. Quin, temporary President of the American Association, said that the stands at Union Park were built by a street railway company, which have given to McGraw full power to make use of them. Von der Horst said; "Every board, every nall belongs to me and my money paid for it all with the exception of exactly $2,500. In the winter of 1894-795, when the grand stand was burned, the traction companies each gave one-third of this amount toward rebuilding, which cost $18,000 without the chairs and benches." kins. NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN. WESTERY MEN FAVOR COLLECTOR BIDWELL FOR L. A. W. PRESIDENT. Native and Foreign Racing Stars Sail for

Europe To-morrow-Important Interests

Centre in the Annual Meeting of the N. C. A. to Be Held Next Week-Gossip On the St. Louis to morrow the chief stars of the foreign cycle racing contingent, Tommaselli Meyers and Banker, that came over here for the indoor races at Madison Square Garden, will sail away. Banker, although a native of Pittaburg, clings to his Paris home so tenaciously that he is coming to be rated as a foreigner. sides this party the same steamer will carry Harry Elkes, "Pop" Elkes, his father and trainer, and Arthur W. Ross of Newark, the boy who won the Irvington-Milburn race on Decoration Day 1899. The latter will ride as a professional at Paris against the crack riders of Europe. In the latter part of February Arthur Zimmerma and Henri Fournier will sail, while Cooper and Kiser and Eddie Bald will go early in March if their present plans are followed. Bald, in spite of his statements of having retired, has hopes of getting into shape and competing in the world's championships. There has been a little worry ing over the prospect of all the stars going abroad for the summer and leaving this country without a sufficient amount of racing material. So far as can be learned the men named are the only ones who will go, unless possibly Charley Miller decides to make the trip. This will by no means cripple the sport here. Neither Bald nor Zimmerman did any riding of consequence last year, so that Cooper, Kiser and Elkes will be the only ones missed. On the other hand, there were number of riders last year who gave promise of being in the championship class in another season. Chief among these is Frank Kramer, the amateur champion, who is expected to yield to constant urging and turn professional, in which event he would probably be quite ready to defeat Cooper and Kiser on their return. On the whole, the outlook is one that shows all the conditions favorable for the development of new crack-a-jacks.

While the show of last week was in progress the political affairs of the L. A. W. were by no means in abeyance. Instead they were dragged right into the exhibition and there many wires were pulled. What was done was all toward the election of George R. Bidwell to the Presidency. President Keenan did not put in an appearance during the week, but Collector Bidwell made two visits to the show and was enthusiastically greeted by a number of the veteran members of the League. Charles Mears, formerly Chief Consul of Ohio, who is one of the most active League workers in the West, had a long conference with Bidwell and returned from it saying: "It's all right and we'll elect him. He does not declare himself a candidate, but he will not say that he won't take it." It was heard from several representatives of the West that that section realizes its mistake of a year ago and is anxious now to join hands with New York for the better government of the League. Practically the whole West will support an anti-racing platform, according to the talk of the men from that section at the show. Howard E. Raymend, an L. A. W. man of many years' standing and formerly a chairman of the Racing Board, said: "I believe in the National Cycling Association. It has carried on its fight against the League with dignity and strictly avoided personalities." right into the exhibition and there many wires with dignity and strictly avoided personalities."

A week from to-day the annual meeting of the N. C. A. will be held in the Astor House in this city. Yesterday Chairman G. A. Needham and Samuel A. Miles of the N. C. A. Board of Appeals had a long conference. The work of formulating new rules for this board will be one of the Important pleces of work of the meet for this "supreme court" is expected to be kept busy this year. The idea of establishing such a board was a new one with the N. C. A. and it has proved one of the wisest and most just features ever connected with cycle racing. The men who constitute the board are not identified with track or racing men and to them any track or trainer or rider or promoter may appeal from the decision of the Board of Control and the Board of Appeals has absolute power to reverse the action of the other body. This removes the N. C. A. from the imputation of being run by one man or by a clique.

President Keenan of the L. A. W. has received.

President Keenan of the L. A. W. has received a letter from M. O. Eldridge, the acting director of the Office of Road Inquiry of the Department of Agriculture, in which the latter says:

Agriculture, in which the latter says:

"I note with pleasure that Mr. Graham of Pennsylvania has introduced your bill appropriating $5,000.000 for the purpose of building public highways. This is a long step in the right direction. The old idea that such improvements should be left entirely to State and local governments is fast dying out. In its stead comes the idea that what the Government does for the people they are doing for themselves. The scarcerow paternalism, which is used by those who are opposed to the Government's entering into such internal improvements, is losing its terror for the masses, as the practical usefulness of the general movement takes more and more varied form. The sentiment is growing that the sentential Government is as much the servant of the whole people as the state and local governments are of their portions, and that the whole people can as safely use their general Government for the general benefit as any section can its local government for local benefit."

The Eighth Regiment, having successfully run a meet under N. C. A permit, in defiance of the alliance between the Military Athetic League and the L. A. W., the Twelfth Regiment proposes to take the second step toward the divorce of the two bodies. An N. C. A. meet has been arranged to be held in the Armory on Feb. 24, in which there will be a team pursuit race open to regimental riders. The Eighth, Ninth, Thirteenth, Twenty-second, Twenty-third and Twelfth regiments have thus far decided to compete.

New Baseball Promoters Assembling at PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.-The meeting to organize the American Association of Baseball Clubs will be held in this city to-morrow, "Scrappy" McGraw of Baltimore arrived at a late hour to-night and he delayed a preliminary session. The object was for the men to get together and meet.

Detroit: Harry Quin and Charles Hevner, Milwaukee: Thomas McCarty and M. Deverson, Boston: P. Peterson and John McGraw, Baltimore, and President McKenna of Providence, and two men from New York, who declined to give their names for publication.

President Quin was asked if there was any truth in the rumor sent out to-night to the effect that the American Association had requested National agreement protection from President Young of Washington. He said:

"No, this would be nonsense, as we would be compelled to abstain from signing National Agreement players. We are standing on our own basis and can get all the players we want without robbing anybody else."

It is generally estimated by President Quin and other prominent promoters of the organization that there will be clubs in Milwaukee, Chicago, Detroit and St. Louis in the West, and Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston and New York or Providence in the East. It is simply a question of grounds between New York and Providence.

This offer was declined, and so his visit to this city has been postponed. Considering the big travelling expenses from St. Petersburg to this city and back, the figure asked by the Russian was not exorbitant. The club, however, thought it was too much to lay out for such an exhibition, as the sum can be used to a better advantage. Although no programme has been definitely arranged, great efforts will be made to make things attractive at the club. The annual handicap tournament will be started at once, while it is intended to arrange a match between two strong metropolitan players.
